HOW TO USE THE ALUMNI DIRECTORY OR LINKEDIN TO FIND A REGIONAL SPEAKER

ALUMNI DIRECTORY UCHICAGO COMMUNITY ONLINE (UCCO)

The UChicago Community Online (UCCO) is a web-based platform exclusively for the UChicago community. The platform includes websites for various regional alumni clubs, affinity groups, and career programs; event listings; volunteer opportunities; and the Alumni Directory. The Alumni Directory includes all living alumni except those who have opted out. The directory also includes students who opt-in for career networking. The directory can be used to search for alumni based on city, title, company, or school or division affiliation.

Access to this directory is open to University of Chicago alumni, students, and faculty. By using this directory, you agree to abide by the University of Chicago Community Online Terms of Use.

To search the directory, simply follow the steps below:

1. Log in to any UCCO site.
2. Select Alumni Directory from the top navigation menu.
3. Choose the field in which you would like to start your search. After entering your criteria, click search.
4. Narrow your selections by entering additional criteria in other search fields.

For example, to find someone in a particular region, enter the city and/or state and click search. To narrow the search to alumni who attended the University during a particular time frame, select the appropriate years and click search again. The list will narrow further with each additional refinement.

LINKEDIN

Volunteers can use LinkedIn as a tool to search for alumni and to conduct outreach. There are two ways to access alumni information on LinkedIn:

1. Use the LinkedIn Alumni Tool, which provides information about where fellow alumni work, what they do, and where they live. The tool prefills the years you attended a school as listed on your LinkedIn profile and shows classmates who attended at the same time. For a broader search, enter additional graduation years.

2. To use the LinkedIn Alumni Tool from your own profile, click on “The University of Chicago” under the Education section (please add the University of Chicago profile if you haven’t already done so). Then click See Alumni. A prefiltered screen appears with options for sorting by location, company, graduation year(s), function, how you are connected, and other criteria.

Join the official UChicago LinkedIn group (see below). Once you’re a member, scan the group’s discussions, members, and jobs for networking opportunities. Remember that LinkedIn permits you to send a message or connection request to anyone with whom you share a group on LinkedIn (as long as that person has opted to accept such messages), which will help you build one-on-one relationships with individual group members.
